YORKSHIRE 2019 PARA-CYCLING INTERNATIONAL

Groundbreaking event

For the first time, a UCI sanctioned international Para-cycling event will precede the UCI Road World Championships and will act as a qualifier for the Tokyo 2020 Paralympic Games. This one-day event will comprise of races for four groups of para-athletes blind and visually impaired, athletes with cerebral palsy, locomotor disabilities and hand cyclists).

TEAM TIME TRIAL MIXED RELAY

orkshire making history

Yorkshire will be making history by hosting the first-ever Team Time Trial Mixed Relay. National teams will consist of three male riders and three female riders, each working together as a team. The male riders will set off first and take on one lap of the Harrogate circuit. The female riders will then replace them on the road as soon as the second male rider has crossed the finish line. Final timings will then be taken when the second female rider crosses the finish line and the fastest team will be declared the winner.

INDIVIDUAL TIME TRIALS A race against time

Prepare for thrills and excitement as riders take on one of the most dramatic and demanding races of the UCI Road World Championships. In this discipline they don't ride in a peloton, but alone against the clock and the fact they are set off at regular intervals means you'll be treated to non-stop action. The athlete who crosses the finish line in the fastest time is declared

A mass start event where national teams come together in a peloton and compete against each other. The wining rider is the first to cross the finish line at the end of the full race distance. Teams range in size with the number of riders being determined on the number of points that country has amassed on the official UCI Rankings over the previous 12 months. The more points, the more riders from each country can compete to minimise the impact on residents and businesses whilst also ensuring the safe and successful delivery of the championships.

What type of road closures will be in place?

Due to the nature of racing on the Harrogate circuit, road closures are required to maintain public and event safety. We aim to keep these closures as short as possible, with dedicated crossing times and aim to reopen roads as soon as it is safe to do so to keep disruption to a minimum.

Across the route impact on the roads will be limited. In most cases this will be on a rolling road closure basis lasting no more than an hour. The only exception at start locations, the Harrogate Circuit, during Time Trials and Yorkshire 2019 Para-Cycling International events where roads closures will be longer. Road closures will be managed by the police. For the most up to date race timings and road closures go to yorkshire2019.co.uk

When are the closures in place?

Due to the different events and finish times across the UCI Road World Championships and Yorkshire 2019 Para-Cycling International, the timings of road closures will vary what's happening in Yorkshire.

Between 22 - 29 September 2019

the world's best cyclists will race on the roads of Yorkshire in the UCI Road World Championships, one of the pinnacle events in the professional cycling calendar. Preceding the Championships, on 21 September, will be the Yorkshire 2019 Para-Cycling International, a ground-breaking event which helps para-athletes gain qualification points for the Tokyo 2020 Paralympic Games.

There will be 11 Championship races over eight days of action which include a range of men's and women's events for junior to elite riders. The Yorkshire 2019 Para-Cycling International will feature every Paralympic road racing discipline and take place in front of one of the largest crowds ever assembled for an elite paracycling event.

Races start in 10 different locations across Yorkshire and collectively cover over 1000km of road before all finishing in the main competition town of Harrogate. The routes pass through a significant number of towns and villages along the way, providing fantastic opportunities for community activities and the chance to witness elite sport first hand. The Championships promise to reinforce the country's reputation as a world-class cycling and sporting destination, recreating the atmosphere of 'the grandest of Grand Départs' from the 2014 Tour de France.

This will be the first time that Britain has hosted the Championships since 1982 and Yorkshire is aiming to deliver the most inclusive, innovative and inspiring UCI Road World Championships in the history of the event.

THE ICONIC RAINBOW JERSEY

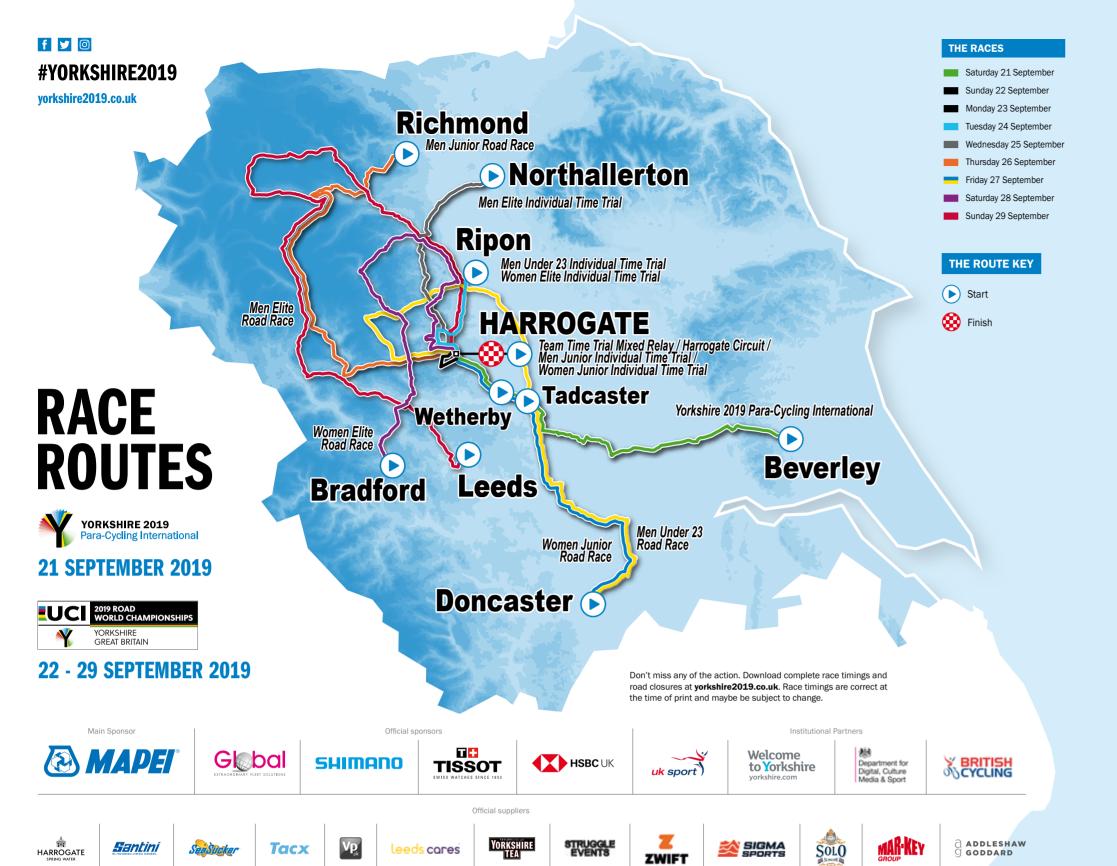

The winners of the Time Trial and Road Race events at the UCI Road World Championships is awarded the rainbow jersey one of the most iconic prizes in sport.

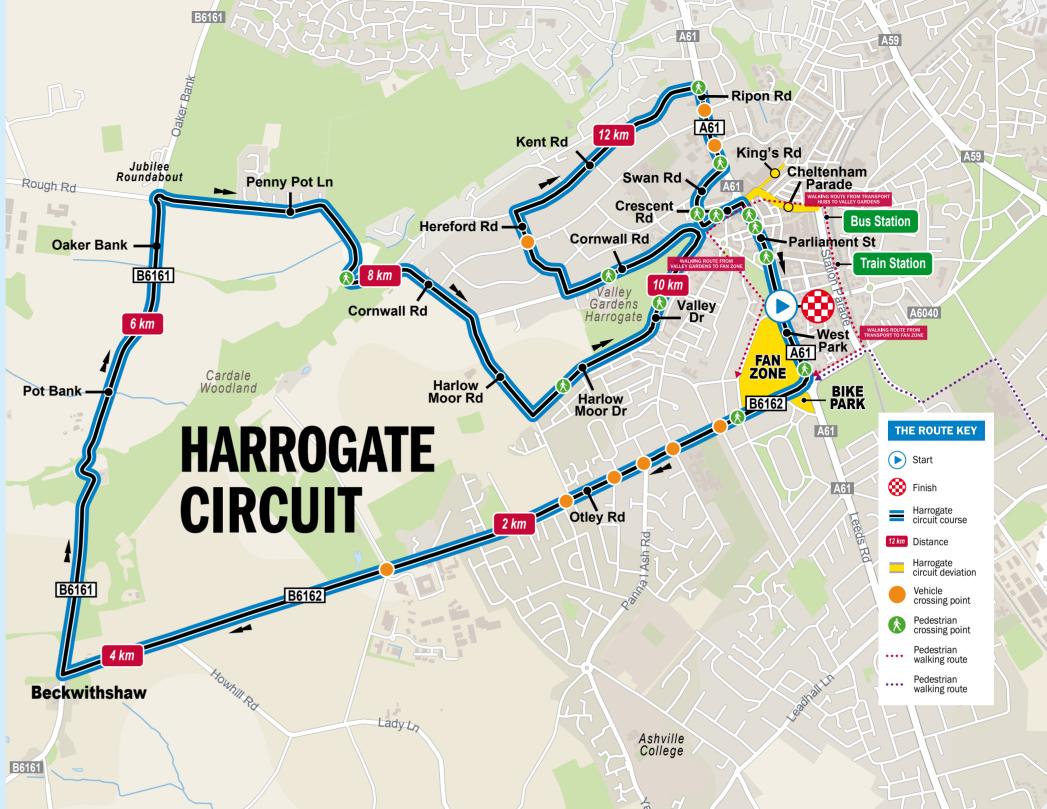

Success: The UCI World Champion has the honour of wearing the rainbow jersey when competing in that same discipline for a whole year.

The Rainbow Bands: The rainbow jersey was first awarded in 1927, the year of the first UCI Road World Championships for professional riders. The design has remained much the same ever since. It is predominantly white with five horizontal stripes epresenting the UCI colours around the chest.

The colours of the stripes (blue, red, black, yellow and green) represent the five continents and are the same as those which appear in the rings on the Olympic flag. The rainbow stripes are used for all nine UCI-governed cycling disciplines, including road racing, track racing, cyclo-cross, BMX, trials, para-cycling and mountain biking.

Legacy: After the world champion's reign is over, that rider is allowed to wear rainbow piping on the sleeve cuffs and collar of their trade team jersey until the end of their career, as testimony to an exceptional achievement
